Company: CTG

Location: Belgium

Category: computer-and-mathematical

To strengthen our Digital Operations team, CTG Belgium is looking for an Atlassian Consultant to implement and integrate the Atlassian Tool Stack (Jira Service Management, Jira Software and Confluence amongst others) at customers.

As an Atlassian Platinum partner, CTG delivers innovative services and projects to improve business processes at our clients and drive digital transformation.

Our Digital Operations department provides a broad vision to Enterprise Service Management Solutions, leveraging partnerships with e.g. Atlassian, ServiceNow, OMNINET.

Ready to be part of a dynamic team passionate about Digital Operations?

Job description

You will join our team of Atlassian experts to support customers across various locations in Belgium or even worldwide to accelerate their digital transformation and enable value co-creation.

During our projects, you will go beyond implementing Jira Service Management Solutions, driving process automation.

You will play an important role throughout the whole delivery chain, going from assessing the current situation, translating client requirements into technical requirements, reporting on possible improvements in way of working, tailoring the implementation to fit the customers' needs, and documenting and providing training on the newly implemented solution.

Profile

You have excellent knowledge of and experience with one or more of the Atlassian Product Portfolio(Jira Service Management, Jira Software and Confluence amongst others) and at ease exploiting the full range of Atlassian marketplace apps to augment the core Atlassian product family features.

You have a broad IT knowledge, a clear vision on infrastructure and applications in general and are aware of the latest technologies.

You have the adaptability to work in rapidly changing environments.

You are familiar with ITIL and you are convinced of the need for a process and value-driven approach during a technical implementation. Certification is a plus.

Your solid knowledge and experience with service management environments and associated processes guide you when developing and implementing solutions for our customers.

You master at least one scripting language (Groovy, Java, Python, Bash, ...).

Certification in Atlassian and previous experience with Jira Service Management, Jira Software and/or Work Management is a plus.

Being familiar with cloud solutions (Azure or other cloud computing services) and DevOps (CI/CD, Docker, Kubernetes ...) would be an asset.

You communicate fluently in English and Dutch or French

We offer you

A interesting challenge in a company that has been nominated as one of Belgium's Best Employers for many years in a row.

A attractive salary package including a company car with fuel card (no limit), meal allowance, representation allowance, group insurance (including pension savings) without own contribution and holidays.

A company culture characterized by exceptional care for our employees .

Flexible working hours and possibility to work from home depending on your role or project.
