Company: Michael Page

Location: Brussels

Category: computer-and-mathematical

As part of your missions, you will:

Understand the business and architecture requirements;

Create and develop well designed and structured Cloud solutions;

Build reusable code and libraries for future use inside the company;

Ensure high quality, performant and scalable product deliveries.

You will have the opportunity to work with different technology stacks (.NET, JAVA, Angular, ESB) and Cloud providers (mostly Azure and also AWS). Moreover, you take care of the security aspects, the automated testing, the operations and the maintenance of the web applications and services you manage.

As a Cloud Engineer, you have at least:

A master' or bachelor's degree in IT or in Sciences with a strong interest in IT;

A good command of English. Knowledge of French and/or Dutch is considered an asset;

Knowledge of one of the common Object-Oriented programming languages (Python, Java, C#,…);

Knowledge of the leading JavaScript frameworks (Angular, ReactJS,…) is considered as asset;

Knowledge of the common application hosting frameworks (Java, .NET, NodeJS,…) is considered as asset.

Knowledge of Spring Framework, JavaScript (ES6), Typescript, HTML5, CSS3, Responsive design, CSS pre-processing (SASS / LESS) and JQuery (3) are considered as asset

Knowledge of the leading Cloud solutions (AWS, Azure) is considered as asset.

An attractive gross salary supplemented by a car, discretionary personal and collective bonuses, and - of course - meal vouchers and eco-vouchers. You will also benefit from 35 days of leave per year.
