BLE Expert

Location: Leuven

Duration: 12 Months

Start Date: ASAP

A client based in Leuven (Belgium) is looking for an BLE Expert for an initial 12 month contract.

Ideal candidate is someone who can work 3 days on site and 2 days remote.

HOWEVER for an Senior Expert BLE engineer they will be able to offer remote work

The client is looking for a candidate with a strong BLE knowledge. The work is to develop the upper level (application level) of the BLE communication protocol stack which are not yet existing.

To do this, knowledge/ understanding /experience of the lower levels is absolutely necessary (Link Layer and Host stack).

The testing part of the job will be relatively limited to the beginning of the assignment. At that time 50% of the time should be spend within the R&D team which is currently struggling with the validation testing. Helping on this aspect will serve as an introduction to the product for the candidate.

Skills:

- 3-5 years embedded software / firmware development experience, in either the mobile industry or in semiconductors. you are a proud software craftsman,
- Solid BLE 5.X experience, preferably in both Link Layer and Host stack,
- Knowledge of design methods and software engineering processes,
- Microcontroller architectures and peripherals,
- Embedded programming in C,
- Python programming skills
- Building real-time systems on bare metal or using an RTOS,
- Structured debugging,
- Interpretation of PCB schematics.
- Experience with FreeRTOS
- Scripting in Python
