Mission

YOUR FUNCTION:

Are you currently an Architect, CIO, ICT Manager, Infrastructure Manager or Project Team leader? Do you enjoy building vision, strategy or design through architecture? Would you like to turn this passion into your job? Meet the market leader in the field of Infrastructure Architecture!

Your job will contain the following:

When a client issue is expressed as business needs and (non-)functional expectations, you'll get to come up with a possible solution, by developing one or more scenarios and evaluating them with the client to land on an optimal scenario. You'll fine-tune the architecture and then define a set of projects to bring this scenario to life.

You'll be in charge of working out a detailed architecture in which the different infrastructure technologies can work together. You'll be mainly involved in the design phase, possibly up to and including the delivery. Your main mission will be to make sure that everything works neatly together: you make IT work!

Architecture Governance: even after a project is completed, you'll still be involved with the client through an Architecture Board or Change Advisory Board. You can be sure that your opinion will truly matter when discussing problems or necessary changes.

All in all, you'll be involved in the entire ICT Life cycle of a number of regular clients. Finally, you'll also get to collaborate with fellow architects, exchanging ideas, knowledge, models, structures...
