Company: TriFinance

Location: Belgium

Category: computer-and-mathematical

Whatever your ambitions, TriFinance gives you every opportunity to achieve them.

Here, you'll work every day on projects that tie in with your growth plans. And you'll continue to make strides in an environment built around active knowledge sharing, coaching, and mentoring. In sum: we provide the opportunities; you show the ambition to grasp them.

Sounds good, you say? Well then, we already want to meet you!

As an ERP Project Manager, you guide your clients in ERP projects. The project can be a tool selection, a first implementation, a roll-out, a major upgrade, an improvement project or even getting a failed implementation back on track.

You are a pivotal figure between the system integrators and the customer's business you challenge and translate the customer's needs into implementation solutions.

You coordinate all activities related to the project and actively involved in all phases of the process : the implementation itself, data migration, facilitating workshops, creating blueprints, testings, integration with existing systems, hypercare and training.

You revise the operational and functional finance & controlling processes the client and question them critically. From there you work out the business requirements together with your client. You give advice on the correct process flows and help decide what the customer needs and how it will be implemented in the new system.

You manage and coach the project team: you define the project goals and scope. You identify risks and report on project progress.

Flexibility is Key! With projects spanning Flanders, we strive to find the optimal match, considering both content and location. We value and appreciate your flexible mindset, that's why we consistently engage in conversations with our clients about incorporating hybrid working arrangements.

Are you as excited as we are about the challenge outlined above. Convinced that you are the one we are looking for? Reach out to our recruitment team to get to know each other!

You have a master in Applied Economy, Commercial Sciences or Commercial Engineering or a master in another field combined with experience in controlling and reporting (management reporting, budgeting & forecasting)

You have knowledge of ERP in implementation-related projects

You are customer oriented, you have experience in stakeholder management and implementation processes and project management methodologies

You like to share your knowledge and you get energy from supporting colleagues

You speak Dutch and English, French is a plus

Just ask our people: because everything at TriFinance centers your growth we're happy to review with you what direction you want to take. We also invest heavily in inspiring training courses, active coaching, and fun events for colleagues. All in an open culture where TriFinance colleagues share their knowledge and help each other get ahead. You can also count on a versatile salary package Besides competitive salary it includes:

a company car (Mini/BMW) with fuel card

a smartphone with subscription

a net expense allowance

meal and eco vouchers

group and hospitalization insurance

flexible working hours

32 vacation days

an attractive cafeteria plan.
