| YOUR CHALLENGES?

As a Junior Embedded Software Engineer:

Surrounded by a team of experts, you have the chance to take part in multiple projects located all around Belgium.

You work closely with electro-mechanical and physics engineers to support the functional analysts.

You support the design and implementation of software solutions to answer the needs identified by the functional analysts.

You test the software through unit testing, automated integration factory testing and integration testing in real conditions on the industrial equipment.

You apply software development methodologies, frameworks and standards (e.g. IEC-62304 Medical Software).

You fix bugs and update software versions to enable the continuous improvement of the user experience.

| WHAT DO WE EXPECT FROM YOU?

You have a Master's degree in Engineering Sciences, preferably in Computer Science, or you have an equivalent degree.

You have an interest in C, C++ and Linux environments.

You have excellent communication skills in English and Dutch (French is a plus).

An interest in embedded software (FPGA, VHDL) is a plus.

Previous experience in Agile software development is an advantage.

You are an active team player with very good interpersonal skills.

You describe yourself as a hands-on and proactive person.

You are fascinated by new technologies and always willing to update your knowledge.
