Functie omschrijving

Are you looking for a new opportunity in Belgium? Do you have technical skills?

Our client is an international group with locations in Belgium, France, Latvia, Poland, Ukraine, and Russia. Their headquarters in Ghent has around 100 employees. They have been active in the horticultural sector for over 30 years.

Specifically, they produce high-quality potting soils for both the professional horticulture industry and the hobby market.

For their production site in the Ghent seaport, they are looking for aintenance technician within their maintenance department.

Your Team

You will work as part of a team with all employees in this department and report to the head of the maintenance department.

Your Challenge

Along with your colleagues, you will be responsible for the preventive maintenance of our machines in different departments: mixing lines, packaging machines, and more.

You will also be responsible for repairing machinery. This involves analyzing problems, troubleshooting, and fixing defects, all as quickly as possible to ensure smooth production.

Additionally, you and your colleagues will be responsible for the annual revisions of the machinery.

Finally, you will share responsibility for the warehouse where machine parts are stored.
