Company: Spotify

Location: Brussels

Category: computer-and-mathematical

We are seeking a dedicated and dynamic candidate to join Spotify's EU Government Affairs team in Brussels as Manager - EU Government Affairs. The Government Affairs team is charged with understanding the global and local policy landscape in relation to Spotify's business objectives and advocating on the company's behalf on critical public policy issues. We represent the company before legislators and regulators, interact with civil society and industry, see around corners, and mitigate potential risks. In this role you will be an active member and will provide advice and external advocacy on policy matters that have an impact on Spotify in Europe. You will report to our Senior Director of European Policy and will be based in our Brussels office.

What You'll Do

Engage regularly with EU policymakers including the Commission, Parliament, Council, and policymakers at national level

Work on the priority public policy issues affecting Spotify in the EU - with a focus on music, copyright and cultural issues, but also on issues including platforms and content regulation, and consumer rules. You will be responsible for managing these files and developing and implementing effective advocacy strategies.

Work closely with other groups and departments inside Spotify -- including legal, licensing, communications, social impact, compliance and trust and safety -- to understand the priorities of internal partners, and create approaches to key policy issues that advance the interests of Spotify

Develop engagement and partnerships with external organizations such as trade associations and civil society organizations

Who You Are

5+ years of experience in EU government affairs, for a government/public authority, a company, and/or a trade association

Expertise on regulatory issues, especially in the field of copyright, licensing, and cultural policies

Excellent understanding of tech sector and policy, and ability to rapidly understand and master complex policy issues

Strong written and oral communications skills & attention to detail

Ability to work with a cross section of stakeholders, including trade associations, companies, civil society

Ability to work independently, across time zones and cultures

Full English language proficiency is required

Knowledge of German or Swedish language is a strong asset

Where You'll Be

Hybrid role based in our Brussels offices (average 2 to 3 days a week required)
