Security Operations Engineer (SOAR) / CISO Platform Security

Your main task will be to maintain the security orchestration and automation platform. This platform is used by the security operation center to manage security alerts. Our mission is to maintain and enrich this platform by integrating it with various tools.

Depending on the domain and product these tasks can include:

Day-2-day configuration updates to implement (customer) change requests following the Euroclear formal change process.

Check the compliance of the configuration and implementation against defined technical security standards and product baselines.

Problem resolution and support. Work together with other technical teams on 'operational incident responses'.

As the process owner, initiate any configuration review/recertification process and work with the other stakeholders (business and technical) to periodically review product configurations and implementation to validate the accuracy and correctness.

KPI delivery to report on the execution of these tasks.

Next to the operational tasks you will be expected to contribute projects. This includes collecting feedback from stakeholders (compliance, risk, security), customize and implement new solutions.

Technical skills

Programming: Python (and YAML).

Experience maintaining a SOAR platform. Knowing Palo Alto XSOAR is a bonus.

Experience maintaining Windows and Linux servers.

At least a few years of experience in IT security with the right security mindset.

A strong technical background of the technologies and infrastructure solutions.

Any experience in the following domains/products is a plus. Other programming languages Web proxies Network IDS/IPS Firewalls EDR

Soft skills

Customer service oriented.

You are a very good communicator in English, both verbal and written, and able to discuss and defend the security interests with individuals and groups of IT (security) experts.

You are a team player who communicates in an open, respectful and constructive way with his customers and peers, both verbally and in writing. You will take ownership and ensure that organizational quality standards are met.

Attention to (good) time management with the right sense for prioritization.

Reliable, stress resistant and flexible.

You will become part of a young, dynamic and eager to learn team of engineers on IT Security. We are working with the latest technologies and a continuous mindset to improve.
