Senior MS Integration Consultant

Microsoft, cloud & infrastructure, lot of experience, consultant Belgium share on

You can handle smaller projects independently but you work equally well as part of a team and are also capable of being a project leader In those kinds of projects, you fulfill a coaching role for your less-experienced colleagues.

You're not just a programmer , you're equally good at thinking about tactical and strategic possibilities that combine various systems. You understand the ins and outs of both the technological and the management side of the IT story and you can convey and present them clearly – also to your customers.

Last but not least, as a consultant you're willing to work on projects throughout the whole of Belgium . We also occasionally work internationally (and regularly in the Netherlands).
