The opportunity

: your next adventure awaits

We assist companies move talent across the globe. The world is a small village nowadays and the right talent should be able to work where needed. As a team we are ensuring that mobile workforce can do their job without worrying about fiscal & payroll constrains. International companies can benefit from the state of the art advise of experienced Global Mobility experts to facilitate foreign assignments and contain associated costs.

We are looking for students to work from one of our offices in

Diegem, Antwerp, Ghent or Hasselt

Your key responsibilities

You will research and prepare high level advice in various tax matters and be on a daily basis in contact through calls, face to face meetings or e mails with international clients and their mobile employees with respect to global mobility issues.

You will notably assist them with: Cross border employment situations and Belgian/international tax implications. Advise on global employment structures, package optimizations, cost efficient remuneration techniques and local constrains. Implementation of International Assignment policies and related issues. Preparing resident and non-resident income tax returns, including assistance during tax audits, tax claims, notices of changes, review of tax bills or application for special tax concessions. The set-up of the payroll for these international clients and related consultation.

Skills and attributes for success

You are a (last year) Master's student in Law, Taxation, (Applied) Economics or Commercial Sciences or a Bachelor's degree in Business Management, Legal Practice or HR.

You are interested in personal tax and payroll matters in an international environment, do have a specialization in Tax or might be interested to start a Tax program.

You have good verbal and written skills in Dutch or French and in English.

You are eager to progress: self-knowledge and self-development are important for you.

You like to communicate. You are not shy to engage in client relationships and have great writing skills.

You are eager to work as a team player and at the same time find independence.

You have an analytical mind and affinity with numbers.

Why EY is the place to feel empowered to flourish?

- Here at EY, you'll have the chance to build a truly exceptional experience. Through our coaching and training programs, you'll develop the skills and knowledge you need to stay relevant today and in the future – all while building a network of colleagues, mentors, and leaders who will be on the journey with you at EY and beyond.
- We focus on well-being by creating a positive team atmosphere where working, learning and caring go hand in hand. We do this by facilitating the organizations of various teambuilding and afterwork activities.
- You will broaden your horizons by working with teams across the globe and collaborate with people of diverse backgrounds — both professionally and cultural.
- We offer you a clear career path with the possibility to join EY permanently after your graduation
